
PUBLIC HEALTH ADVISORY
34TH ANNUAL HIV/AIDS ON THE FRONT LINE

Wednesday
September 22, 2021

9 a.m. - 1:30 p.m. PT
FREE Virtual Event

The purpose of this activity is to provide healthcare professionals the opportunity to enhance their knowledge with new and updated data to improve HIV/AIDS treatment for people living with HIV, enrich compassionate caring skills, and provide information that will support the diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of HIV. The sessions will be presented by practicing experts and based upon the latest state-of-the-art research of HIV therapy and care.

Learning Objectives:

- Identify newly approved antiviral therapies and future therapies that will improve outcomes for individuals with HIV.
- Identify newer treatments protocols recommended for the treatment of STI's.
- Discuss how mental health issues, substance use, and COVID-19 impact the care of patients living with HIV.

Speakers:

Eric S. Daar, MD
Harbor-UCLA Medical Center

Kathleen Jacobson, MD
STD Control Branch, CDPH

Aunsha Hall-Everett, MA
California Prevention Center

Lawrence McGlynn, MD
